Irma United Church Annual Meeting of Congregation Reveals Healthy Condition

The annual congregational meeting was held in the Church last Thursday, February 7th, at 8 p.m. Reports from the various church organizations indicated that very successful work was being carried on, and that the finances showed a very healthy condition.

The Sunday School report was given by Miss Fiewelling, the secretary, and revealed that all accounts had been met including the donation of $30.61 to the Missionary and Maintenance fund. The enrollment including officers and teachers was 104, with an average attendance of 70.5%. No less than seven had won five-year gold buttons for perfect attendance, namely, Mr. J. H. Elliott, Ethel Tate, Margaret Tate, Jacqueline Tate, Eileen Geeson, Dorothy Geeson and Gladys Geeson. Four-year buttons were awarded to Haviland Elford, Ruth Reeds and Marion Higginson. Three-year buttons to Mrs. E. L. Elford, Evelyn Elford and Phyllis Schon. The school motto for the year is "Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth."

The C.G.T. report was given by Ethel Tate, which showed a membership of eleven, and indicated that a full season's work was accomplished, including a most enjoyable camp at Camp Lake. Financial support was given to the Alberta Girls' Work Board and all other expenses met, leaving a small balance.

The Junior Choir presented its report in the shape of a chorus and it was thanked for the services freely given in the services under the leadership of Miss York. The work of the choir has been a feature of the church worship since last year, and much enjoyed by the congregation. Mrs. Osterhout presented the report of the W.M.S. which revealed that this organization had a membership of twelve with two associate helpers, and indicated that the amount of $130.85, of which $120 (the allocation) was sent to the General Board. There had been a course study on the "Builder of the Last Church" which was closely followed, and supplies had been sent to Cold Lake Hospital.

The Mission Band reported through Ruth Reeds showing that the membership was eleven. The total funds were remitted to the W.M.S. of which this organization is a branch. The Ladies' Aid report was presented by Mrs. Carter and showed a total income of $224.62, and after

GRAIN CLEANING

There is no need now to wait for your neighbor's mill to clean your grain for seed. We are cleaning every day now with the Carter cleaner and giving satisfaction. If your grain is very dirty we will put it through twice for an extra half cent per bushel. Prices are two cents one through and two and a half cents one through twice. We clean at the rate of 150 bushels per hour.

We now have a large stock of Red Head Lamp Kerosene. This has proved to be the best on the market. Don't forget when you want a cream separator to investigate the "Ren-frew" which has a record unequalled.

NEWS ITEMS FROM JARROW

The church boards of Malbra, Batt, Jarrow and Kinsella met at the Jar-row manse for dinner on Wednesday last, 20 men and women sitting at the dinner table. The business meeting was held in the church at 1 o'clock, which dealt with the business of the four points pertaining to the field.

The community club and board of trade held their meeting in the community hall on Tuesday evening last. After the business conducted by the board of trade the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The following officers were elected: R.W. Griffith, president; William Boyde, vice-president; Allan Harper, secretary; and E. J. Kelly, treasurer. A vote of thanks was passed showing the appreciation of the members for the faithful service rendered by the officers throughout the past year.

The next monthly meeting of the board of trade will be held in the hall on the second Tuesday of March. Dr. Richardson of Viking was kept busy in Jar-row last Friday evening extracting teeth.

Rev. R. W. Griffith accompanied by Mrs. Harold Whidden took the little daughter, Dorothy Whidden, to the Viking hospital, who has been greatly troubled with her eyes. While on the journey home, having struck an icy spot in the road, the car instantaneously dived into the ditch with the top partly buried in the snow and the wheels hanging in the air. Fortunately no one was hurt, not a window broken and very little damage to the car.

The Alberta poultry marketing scheme was explained at the Community hall last Thursday afternoon by Mr. Kingston of Stettler. The few farmers who were present expressed themselves greatly in favor of the plan and believe that many of the farmers in the community gladly will unite when the poultry scheme will be explained to them.

Arnold Christianson's family to Viking last Saturday. We hope that it will not be necessary for Mr. Christianson to undergo an appendicitis operation.

A Social Credit public meeting will be held in the Community hall Tuesday, February 19th. The Social Credit group of Irma will have full charge of the meeting. We invite the public to attend. Come with your questions to make a thorough investigation of the important question of the day.

Mrs. W. W. Kerns of Kinsella is a visitor at the Jar-row manse.

Mr. R. Penfold returned from a trip to the States recently. We are pleased to report he has greatly improved in health.

A car load of hockey fans from Jar-row went to the hockey match at Irma last Saturday night.

The wheat pool representatives, Andrew Holmberg of Viking and Harry Foreman of Chauvin, addressed the farmers at Jar-row on Thursday afternoon. A goodly number of the pool farmers were present.

The Irma Hockey Team

(By Ralph E. Congdon)

Dick Yeoman the goalie, is the best on the line. When it comes to the play-offs, just watch Dickie shine! Next comes Fisher. The fighting defence; He looks mighty tough. But it's all a pretence. Then we have Sharkey. A man of large frame. Though quiet and peaceful, He plays a good game.

In the centre is Lane. From Wainwright town; A faster puck chaser. He never been found.

On the right wing is Lawson, A very fine chap; He can go through and score Without a mishap.

On the left wing is Rusty, A jolly good sort, He takes the bumps and the knocks Like every good sport.

And yet we have Mickey, The go-getting scout; He works and he sweats, But he never plays out.

Ray Martin, the school teacher, Is of medium height; He plays a clean game, But not a referee's fight.

Beside him is Goosey, The long-legged Stetler; He takes bumps and hard falls, But seems never to heed.

For a sub we have Lukens, With a frame like a door; Though he was seriously crippled, He came back for more.

SPORT PEEPS

Not satisfied with 272 miles per hour, Sir Malcolm Campbell has brought over his re-designed Bluebird to Florida beach in hope of doing 300 miles. To help the driver, a strip of black oil a foot wide will mark a line some ten miles long. Every time the tide comes in the mark goes out. So they make a new line. We smile at the odd design of this Bluebird, yet it appears to have influenced the airflow models of the passenger cars. It is so shaped that the faster it goes the tighter it hugs the ground, the air pushing it downward.

The winning of the Grand Challenge at the Edmonton hospital by Rose of Sedgewick, defeating George McLaughlin of Tofteld, shows that the boys from the country towns have equal chance with the city folk in that red-hot throwing contest. The win also warmed our hearts in the fact that the prize came to our neighbor Sedgewick, almost a suburb of our village, and thus just the same as home.

The local hospital conducted by the ladies is rapidly nearing the jewelry stage. Some very fine curling has been done, with the women showing remarkable proficiency in handling those heavy stones. Many of the games have been so close in the score that the proverbial "chalk" separated them. One stroke of the chalk was sufficient to do it. It may have looked just like a hair, but it sent one group of curlers up while the other went down. But everybody smiled.

It was a great string of victories for Murray Murdoch's pals to chalk up, thirteen, "baker's dozen." That stamps the Rangers as a real threat in the closing days of the hockey season. Will the finals see Murray striving to take the cup away from the present holder, Clem Loughlin? Such a feature would be pleasing to us.

Later details of the Eddie Wenatob bout in London, show that the crowd were of one mind against the referee in declaring a draw. The Viking Flash should have had a win marked on his record card. He may have gained just as much in popularity with the crowd, and prove a drawing card in his next bout. Any fans that Eddie would not be able to observe the strict rules of English boxing, were dispelled by this fight in the great Stadium.

Aged Kinsella Lady Passed Away Friday

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Aleock of Kinsella district were held from the Anglican church here on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by the Rev. T. J. Matthews. Neighbors and friends from Kinsella and district were present at the last sad rites. The late Mrs. Aleock was in her 73rd year and was a kindly christian lady devoted to her family and a large circle of friends who mourn her passing.

Burial took place in the Lake Olivia cemetery.

She is survived by a son Fred and a daughter.

Floral tributes included wreath from F. Aleock and sister; Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Vangness; Women's Institute of Kinsella; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Turbull and family; Mr. and Mrs. B. Barber; Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook and family; Mr. and Mrs. R. Brickman and Charles.

Sensation Is Caused When Speaker Loses

U.F.A. CIRCLES CONCERNED OVER DEFEAT OF HON. GEO. N. JOHNSON

Coronation, Feb. 5.—Causing consternation in official U.F.A. circles and indicating that the talk of a split inside the party has more than a foundation in fact, the defeat of Hon. George N. Johnston, sitting U.F.A. member for this district, and Speaker in the Alberta legislature, when he went before the U.F.A. convention here for re-nomination on Monday night, has caused a mild sensation throughout the district.

The nomination was contested and won by C. C. Wager, farmer of the Federal district, who literally swept the speaker aside under an avalanche of votes, the present member apparently having few supporters among the delegates present.

Attention Social Credit Groups in Sedgewick Provincial Constituency

Arrangements are being made to hold a Social Credit Convention in Sedgewick for the purpose of forming a Constituency Association. It is expected that this meeting will be held in the near future and in the meantime it is suggested that each Study Group register the name of its president and secretary with Mr. J. G. Murray, Sedgewick, who has kindly consented to act as Constituency Secretary pro tem, until the convention meets.

It is also suggested that Study Groups appoint their delegates immediately (one delegate for every five members in the Study Group) to attend this convention, the date of which will be announced later.

THE PROPER CARE OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

Sport Model Tops

WHILE they are made of a different material and are not coated with a varnish, as are the tops of closed cars, a certain amount of inspection and care is necessary to the upkeep of the sport model top. This style of top is made from a gray, tan or khaki coloured fabric called teal or Burbank cloth. It usually consists of two layers of closely woven cloth which are fastened together with rubber cement. When this material is new it will resist weather.

After the car has been in service for a year or two, however, the top material sometimes loses its waterproof qualities and leaks develop. When this occurs it is useless to try to waterproof the material with a coating of varnish, lacquer or any other kind of surface finish. They are not suited to material of this type, and are liable to cause it to stiffen, pucker, or become discolored. The proper compound to use on sports model tops to renew their waterproof qualities is one which will sink into the cloth and waterproof the fibres without changing the color or appearance of the material in any way.

Be Self-Reliant

One of the most deplorable results of the world depression of the past five years, and especially unfortunate because the effects will be far forward into the years to come after the depression has become a memory, is the breaking-down of the morale of many people who for years have been unemployed. Unable to obtain employment anywhere, forced to accept government and municipal assistance, and with no immediate prospect of any change in the situation, the temptation to throw up their hands, abandon all self-effort to help themselves, and to sit down in despair or idly accept the situation, has proven too strong for many people.

Enforced idleness, living without working and doing so at the expense of the State, has apparently convinced some people that it is no longer necessary that they should work even when work can be obtained. Such people now take the attitude that they do not owe anything to their country, but that their country does owe them a living whether they work for it or not; that the State having provided for them when work could not be obtained, the State can just as well continue to provide for them in their actual necessities of life. When employment is offered to this type of individual, he proceeds to compare the wages he will receive in exchange for his labor with the amount of his relief quota while unemployed, and decides that the increase in the amount he will receive does not compensate him for the fact that he will be required to work for it. He prefers idleness and relief.

At all times there have been men and women of this type, but their number has been greatly increased during the past five years. Such people now look upon government relief as a right, and they exercise their ingenuity, not in the direction of helping themselves, but to organizing in groups to bring pressure upon governments to enlarge the distribution of relief, the cost of the same to be paid, of course, by those who do work and are willing to work.

This break down in the morale of so many people is, let it be repeated, one of the most deplorable and most sinister effects of the world depression. It has not demoralized the vast majority of people who have been forced against their will to accept government assistance in their actual necessities of life. To any great extent affected those who can trace their difficulties to climatic conditions over which neither they nor governments have any control. But there has been a great loss of self-reliance, and most unfortunately so among young people in their late teens and early twenties who, above all classes, should be most self-reliant. The stronger characters are not affected, or will rise above the temptations of the moment, but the weaker ones show a marked tendency to drift with the tide, rather than to exert themselves and battle the waves of adversity until the tide does turn in their favor.

No useful purpose is served by painting a gloomy and discouraging picture unless it can be used to point a moral and teach a lesson. And it is the duty of all those who realize the existing tendency, and who appreciate its dangers, both present and future, to throw the whole weight of their experience and influence into the scale to maintain and promote the spirit of self-reliance, to teach the beauty of courage and the ugliness of despair. Clergymen, teachers, parents, all our many worthwhile organizations have a very special and particular duty to discharge in this connection. Their responsibility is greater now than in times of abundant prosperity.

It is the duty and responsibility of all to inculcate the truthful idea in the minds of people that in its only useful and growing sense, life is a struggle. We learn to walk not by being carried, but by painstakingly making the effort to walk. So long as a young child is carried, it will never learn to walk, and until it does walk it will remain weak. Self-reliance must be taught throughout life, or life will be a tragedy for those who have failed to learn.

We rightly pray "Lead us not into temptation," because temptation should be avoided, but temptation comes nevertheless in every moment and activity of life. So it is we further pray, "But deliver us from evil." Strength comes from offering resistance, but those who would protect us against all hazards and the pitfalls of inexperience merely enfeeble rather than strengthen us.

So long as the necessity continues for government aid to those who cannot help themselves because of causes and conditions beyond their control, such government aid must be provided. No sane person thinks otherwise. But it should be the ambition of every man and woman to get along with a minimum of such aid and rely on their own efforts to the fullest possible extent while looking forward to the day when they can joyfully surrender all such aid and stand again on their own feet and face the world with courage in full reliance upon their own initiative and powers.

Hiding Place Of Gold

Offer To Show South African Government Where Boer Treasure Is Located

Capt. A. W. Lewis, retired importer who claims decorations for Boer war services, announced at Berkeley, Calif., that he had offered to show the South African government the exact location of the long-sought Boer treasure cache, estimated worth $35,000,000.

Lewis said he had written to the high commissioner for the Union of South Africa at Pretoria, Transvaal, making two conditions: That he be compensated for revealing the hiding place of the gold, and that the British government sponsor an expedition to recover the gold and protect him against civil lawsuits by any mine owners claiming the property upon which the cache stands.

NOT A RHEUMATIC PAIN FOR 4 YEARS

70-Year-Old-Man Praises Kruschen

A man who once suffered severely from rheumatism writes:—

"For a long time I suffered with rheumatism, and at one time was laid up for about nine weeks. About five years ago I was advised to try Kruschen. I did so, and have continued using them ever since. Kruschen did the trick, as I have not had a rheumatic pain for over four years. I am nearly 70 years of age, and feeling fine, and always able for my day's work—thanks to Kruschen."—A. S. Kruschen dissolves away those needle-pointed crystals of uric acid which are the cause of all rheumatic troubles. It will also flush these dissolved crystals clean out of the system. Then if you keep up "the little daily dose," excess uric acid will never form again.

Powdered Whey

New Treatment Found For High Blood Pressure

How a new type of treatment for high blood pressure and tuberculosis came out of a chicken feed trough was disclosed by Dr. L. L. Stanley, San Quentin prison physician. Seven years ago Dr. Stanley and Dr. Jan Don Ball, San Francisco physician, heard poultrymen at Petaluma, an egg production centre, were overcoming ailments of their flocks with powdered whey. They investigated and upon noting the results decided powdered whey might be good for men as well as for chickens.

Dr. Stanley said powdered whey had been used with success to lower abnormal blood pressure in San Quentin prisoners and to build up the bodies of men afflicted with tuberculosis.

"The results were very gratifying," said the slight, gray-haired prison doctor.

Canadian Scientist Honored

Dr. Gussow Elected President Of American Phyto-Pathological Society

A distinctive honor has just been conferred on Dr. H. T. Gussow, of Ottawa, Dominion Botanist, Dominion Experimental Farms, by his unanimous election to the presidency of the American Phyto-Pathological Society. The annual meeting was held in Pittsburgh, Pa., a few days ago. The society was organized in 1909 and has about 900 members, among whom are the leading plant pathologists and mycological research workers in Canada and the United States. It is the only society of its kind in North America and is one of the most notable throughout the world among those of which scientific agriculturists are members. Dr. Gussow is a charter member and his written and oral contributions to the society and to agriculture generally, are considered as particularly valuable. He is regarded as one of the outstanding authorities on botanical science.

Place each in its own bag made from Canapar Cookery Parchment. You seal in all the mineral salts and flavor, this way . . . and there's no odor, not even from cabbage or cauliflower. You need only use ONE burner—turned low.

And vegetables are only one food that can be cooked better with Canapar. For instance, when boiling or steaming fish, all the goodness and flavor are retained—and there's no odor—no sticky pots and pans to scour. This alone makes Canapar worth using.

Remember that Canapar won't absorb odors. You rinse it off—hang it up to dry and use it repeatedly. Try it as a dish cloth, especially for glasses—it does not shed lint.

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, down on his luckless prospector till now is returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-glass cattle and protests against it.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions the Soda Springs dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Stone tells Crewe, his foreman, about his meeting with Dustin, and is warned that Dustin would kill him if he got the chance. Stone and Crewe go to Seco to send a telegram to Gerald Keene. While at Seco an attempt is made to kill Stone, who proves more than a match for his enemies.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Duro Stone has seen the Broken Spur men rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery and appraise its value. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine and samples of the rich ore he took from it.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fixes the shooting on Peyott Gregg, a drug addict, who, stupified by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. They bury Kane and then return to the Broken Spur ranch.

Meanwhile at the Hour Glass, Carr, Crewe and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the notebook belonging to Dad Kane that Stone had found. Stone thinks of a possible solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test out his theory.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"It's his 'glory hole'," he said. "He made a cut in the hill. I suppose he picked up a vein of ore along the hillside and followed it till it went into the hill. Then he dug after it and he got . . . This."

He turned the specimens of ore over and over in his hands and his eyes took on a curious look.

"My Lord," he said softly. Then again. . . "My Lord! It isn't possible. . ."

There was that in his voice that carried conviction to her, too, and she seized his arm in a frenzied clutch.

"What is it?" she asked. "Oh, what is it?"

"I'm not quite sure. I'm no mineralogist but . . . It looks like the real thing, Edith. Any assayer can tell us. It looks to me as if our friend Kane has found a darned good vein of gold on the Hour-glass land. At least we'd better pray it's on the Hour-glass. . . I've seen a lot of ore in Arizona and California and I'm sure I'm right."

"Oh. . . Words failed her for a minute. . . Then it will put Hour-glass on its feet. . ."

"Yes. If we're right but . . . Edith. . . I'll be much wiser to say not a word about it till we find out. I can send these samples off and have them assayed. When we have the assayer's report it will be time to tell your father. You know the effect a disappointment might have on him. . ."

Her eyes filled as she glanced at him. So he, too, knew old Joe Carr's weakness! Yet . . . How decently he covered his knowledge! She was suddenly glad that she could trust him.

"I'll do exactly as you advise," she said quietly, "but I'll be all that I can do to keep it secret. We'll not say a word of what we've found."

"Not till we have got the assayer's report and, most important of all, till we have found old man Kane. You see it is sure that Kane and Dustin are partners. I'm not well versed in mining law but I'm under the impression that any man who finds a vein of ore can follow it even under land that belongs to some one else. If Kane and Dustin both know of this find, it means trouble. . . unless we can get in ahead of them. Let's get back at once."

They got their ponies and headed back for the Hour-glass.

CHAPTER XI

A sudden word from Stone made Edith check her horse. He was bending low on the near side of his horse and was studying the soft shaly soil. At her unspoken question he pointed to the trail.

"Pack burros and ponies have been along here not very long ago," he said. "How do I know?"

He laughed a little. "No use holdin' out on you. I know. Can't you see where that nigger-head cactus's been chewed? Nothin' can eat that but a burro. So that soft soil over there. Some animal has rolled there. I'm just guessin' . . . Wait! Let's follow the tracks. They don't seem to leave the trail very much."

"Here's old Kane's," he said. "It hasn't been out very long. How do I know? Because if it had been out very long the wind would have drifted sand over the ashes. There are none. . . No sands I mean. What's that? . . ."

He stood at gaze staring at a great buzzard that was caw-hopping near the fire. He threw a rock at it and the ungainly bird hopped off among the low scrub. He dropped his reins and hurried across the flat and saw the reason for the bird's actions in the remnant of a piece of bacon rind that lay before him. It had been dragged from the fire by the buzzard seeking off. Stone picked it up and carried it back to the fire.

"There's a sample of the same kind of rock you found in the cut in the hillside," said Edith quickly. She pointed to a lump of rock lying by the fire. Stone picked it up and examined it curiously. It was stained along one side with a curious brownish stain. He paid no attention to that stain but dropped the rock in his pocket when his eye was caught by certain other things on the ground. While Edith was looking about her for other things, Stone carefully swept up certain odds and ends that lay half-buried by the sands. Three cigarette butts were there and a green-and-red paper torn from a package of foreign make. Stone considered them, swept them into a heap and thrust them into his pocket.

"We may as well get on," he said swinging into saddle. "There's no doubt about it. Old man Kane made his camp here when he located that glory hole. If it had been a long time ago that bacon rind would have been eaten up or else it would have been hard and dry. He was here not long ago. . ."

"What else did you find?"

"Nothin' much. Lets hit the trail." Their ponies walked neck-and-neck along the narrow track and Edith turned to her companion.

"What shall we tell them at the Hour-glass?" she asked suddenly.

"Oh, we'll just tell them that we found where old Kane's been at work. Then I'll ship the ore-samples off to an assayer unless I can get some one in Seco to do it. Better send it away, though. We don't want to start something that we can't finish. It's likely to start a stampede if the ore-samples show real gold in paying quantities. . . And I'm sure they're rich. First of all though, we must find old Kane. But it's deeper than that, I fear. Kane has found the ore. Kane is a partner of Dustin. It's a question of how honest Dustin is. Can you trust him?"

Why at 40 You Think You're "GROWING OLD"

It's Frequently Just an "Idea." Not "Old Age." And According to Scientists, May Be Something No More Alarming Than A Touch Of Acid Stomach

At about 40, many people think they're "growing old." They're tired a lot. Have headaches. Stomach upsets. Dizziness. Nausea.

Well, scientists say the cause, in a great many cases, is merely an acid condition of the stomach. The thing to do is simply to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, all you do is take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed.

Try this. You'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS," or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets, Made in Canada.

Also in Tablet Form: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on hand at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

"Sam Dustin? Trust Sam Dustin?" Her voice expressed such wonder at the question that he grinned behind a hand. "Why, I would trust a convicted thief first."

"That's about what I figured," he said. "Well. . . We had better be on our way. It'll be late when we get back to the ranch."

They rode along through that golden afternoon. The western sun shed an aureate blanket over mesquite and cactus scrub and the soft desert dust threw a soft mantle over them and through that mantle Stone was always aware of Edith's swaying figure giving to the stride of her horse. What a wife she would make! What it would mean to a man to know that when he came back to the Hour-glass from hard riding in the distant hills that such a girl would be waiting for him. If she sensed his thoughts, she treated them lightly.

"Yonder's the ranch," she said and pointed to a distant blur on the flat plain at their feet.

They came racing down the slope, their excited horses running neck-and-neck to the rhythmic thunder of the hoofbeats and the light click-click of the shifting bits.

"Oh. . . She paused breathlessly. "That was glorious! I wish you'd ride with me every day. Who's that? That is some one coming from the Hour-glass."

They paused on the slope to watch a horse swing out of the home corral at the Hour-glass and head toward them along the narrow trail at a headlong run. From time to time he flung his head angrily and half-leaped into the air at times.

"That's Dustin's big black," said Edith sharply. "I wonder what he's been at the Hour-glass for?"

"No good I bet. He's roweling his horse unmercifully. That's what makes him jump like that."

Beyond a doubt it was Sam Dustin. Edith gave a quick glance at the swiftly-moving horse that was heading straight for them. The trail to the house ran between twin lines of barbed wire; five strands of it set on heavy posts with a tangle of mesquite scrub along the wire. There was ample room in that lane for two horses to pass. . . But would the black pass?

Edith knew instinctively what would happen. She saw the fell determination in Dustin's pose. She knew that in every rodeo and riding contest in three counties Sam Dustin had been victor so often that men could be found with difficulty to ride against him. There was not a man in the Valley who could compare with him.

The on-coming horse stretched out faster and faster and a running horse cannot be turned. He must run straight! She cast an anxious look over her shoulder at the fence. There was no hope for Stone there. No range-bred horse would face such a leap. She looked again at the black horse. She could see Dustin's face now and that face was without its mask of indifference. She remembered the quarrel of the two men at Soda Springs. Dustin's eyes were alight with a light that she knew instinctively though she had never seen it before and she knew what it portended. Sam Dustin, the best rider in three counties, meant to ride down his enemy in the golpe de caballo, the collision of horses! That golpe de caballo was a recognized form of dueling in days before the pistol was a part of every man's equipment and many a man has been left on the plains with a broken neck or back as a result of it.

"The golpe de caballo," she called frantically. "Look out, Duro! He means to ride you down. . ."

Range-bred though she was, Edith's Carr's eyes were not quick enough to see what happened. Her gaze was centered on the fun on-coming Dustin so she missed the deft touch on the bits with which Stone gathered his great horse. That light touch brought the head down and chin down and in till it seemed to touch the broad chest. A quick unseen pressure of the rider's legs brought the horse up to the bit and for one moment the great Isabella horse half-crouched, like a coiled steel spring utterly subservient to his rider's will. His weight was gathered; his balance poised on those powerful hind-quarters. Dustin was within fifty yards. . . Forty. . . Thirty. . . Was Duro Stone a complete fool? Did he think that for one moment his horse could stand the shock or did he simply not understand? No amateur could face Sam Dustin on his famous black that had been trained to this sort of contest. Thirty. . . Twenty yards and still no action!

It is far easier to feel kindly, to act kindly, towards those with whom we are seldom brought into contact, whose tempers and prejudices do not rub against ours, whose interests do not clash with ours, than to keep up an habitual steady self-sacrificing love towards those whose weaknesses and faults are always forcing themselves upon us, and are stirring up our own. Someone entered the Club Cafe by a side door during the early morning hours of Tuesday, February 12th, and helped themselves to about thirty dollars in cash from the cash register. Apparently none of the goods on the shelves were taken.

The annual meeting of the Strawberry Plains school district was held on Saturday, February 9th, with a good attendance. Mr. S. Johnson, the retiring trustee, was re-nominated, and also Mr. Jas. Burrell. Upon a vote being taken Mr. Johnson was declared elected.

The Alma Mater Merry-makers will put on the play entitled "That's One On Bill" in the Alma Mater schoolhouse on March 1st. Admission, adults 25c, children 15c. Proceeds in aid of piano fund.

Another large crowd attended a meeting of the Irma Social Credit study group last Monday afternoon. The report now in that speakers on this subject will be sent out very soon to the central and northern districts of the province so we may get one of these men to address an Irma audience before very long.

A successful meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., was held in Hedley's hall on February 7th, at 2 p.m. Much business was done and election of officers took place. Mrs. G. Pedel being elected president, Mrs. G. Batchelor secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. H. Carter press reporter.

On Thursday night the juniors from Viking came down to play Irma youngsters. The game was a fast and interesting one, and at the end of the third period the score was 2-2. After an overtime of twenty minutes the score was again tied 3 all, thus ending the game a tie.

Mr. R. D. Smallwood, Conservative nominee for Wainwright constituency, attended a conference of Conservative members, party organizers and nominees in Edmonton on Monday and Tuesday, February 11th and 12th. The purpose of this conference was to organize for the coming campaign and draft a platform to put before the electors.

The February meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Locke on Thursday afternoon, the 21st. All the members are urged to attend as the business of preparing for the Presbytery is being completed. The date set for this important event is Wednesday, Feb. 27th.

The February meeting of the Irma W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Welch with a good attendance. Arrangements were made to hold a tea and sale of home cooking and cut flowers on the Saturday before Easter. Two new members were enrolled. At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. J. Rae.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., Irma Branch No. 112, was held in Hedley's hall on 7th February at 2 p.m., most of the members being present, with Comrade C. Jackson presiding. Members elected to office were: Com. W. Steel, president; Com. E. W. Carter, vice-president; Com. H. Carter, secretary-treasurer; with the same executives and building fund trustees as in the previous year.

The Irma junior hockey team accepted a challenge from the Viking juniors to play a game last Friday evening, February 8th. With the idea in their heads they could follow the example of the older boys and bring home the bacon they set off for. However, they found they were outclassed by their opponents and had to be satisfied with the small end of a 5 to 1 score. If the ice does not go too soon, hope to have a chance to turn the tables here in Irma. The boys are very grateful to Messrs. R. L. Penfield, A. E. Foxwell and P. M. Jones for transportation and lunch.

The climax of the mixed bonspiel that has held the interest of the community the past week, came on Tuesday night, when the play in the Grand Challenge event had narrowed down to the Slavic rink, skipped by Jack Slavic, and the Miss Minnie Ross rink, skipped by J. H. Cartwright. The Slavic rink emerged the winners in a game that was followed by play by a large crowd that filled the waiting rooms and the boardwalk.

The personnel of the rinks were: Mrs. Slavic, J. Slavic, Ken Hilliker and camp for older people. Miss M. Ross, H. Cartwright, Jack Sheets and Miss Metcalf.

The play in the other events are now down to the finals which will be played this week.

This year a three team play-off is being used in the Gas Line League for the first year, and as Irma has finished in the first place, it remains for Viking and Holden to fight it out in home and home games, total goals determining which shall be the one to tangle with Irma for the silverware.

The first of these games is being played in Holden on Thursday night, and the second and last Viking on Saturday night of this week. Considering the fact that our team is composed of local boys and all amateurs in the rink, it is a wonder the word they have been playing good hockey and have been giving the fans very good entertainment all season, so well worth watching at any time.

With Hurum Menelly, McIntosh, Black, Stewart and the rest of their gang they are a tough outfit to beat, but our genial manager, Sandy Ross, promises to do no less than turn that little trick for the benefit of those who come out to see the game on Saturday night starting at 8:30 sharp, so all aboard for the rink and help the boys win their way into the finals.

About twenty or more rinks are expected to take part in the open bonspiel that will be held here on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 19th and 20th, the first of its kind held in the history of the town. At least 14 rinks will enter from outside points. Towns that have already sent in entries of one or more rinks are Edgerton, Wainwright, Holden, Tofted, Vegreville and possibly Innisfree.

Play may begin Monday evening if enough visiting rinks are present. The local club will enter at least six rinks. A fine array of prizes in each event is now being arranged. Two sheets of ice are available and in order to finish the spiel in two days, play will commence at 7:30 a.m., and the last draw at 11 p.m.

Such well known skips as Horton and Hacker, of Vegreville; Beirnes and Chapman, of Tofted; Geo. Black, Bobby Emond, and Tom White, of Holden; Scotty Forbes and Hartman Mills, of Wainwright; Harry Kelly of Edgerton, and H. Caldwell of Innisfree, will be seen in action.

Ministers and laymen from all the towns between Tofted and Edgerton gathered at Viking United church on February 11th and 12th for the regular spring meeting of the Wainwright Presbytery. Rev. W. Bain-

The Week In the Legislature

By T. R. Windross

The pomp and splendor of the opening of the legislature, which is the final session of the seventh legislature of Alberta, was as colorful and interesting this year as ever, with the space beneath the great dome of the Legislative Buildings gorgeous in foliage and flowers and the banners of the Alberta regiments hanging from the big buttresses in solemn reminder of the growing greatness of this newest province of the dominion.

The sun shone down on the proceedings from a brilliant sky as the lieutenant governor, escorted by a numerous retinue of officers in uniform and wearing their medals, inspected the guard of honor while the 15 guns prescribed for a governor boomed their deep-throated chorus for the event.

Inside the buildings the elite of Edmonton filled the crimson-carpeted chamber floor between the benches of the members, and the galleries were crowded with spectators of the humbler ranks of life.

His Honor, W. L. Walsh, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, read the speech from the throne in a clear voice and then retired, leaving the house to go through the usual formalities and then to adjourn.

That was Thursday. On Friday the house met again and listened to two serious addresses made in moving and seconding the reply to the speech from the throne by Mr. Conner, member from Warner, and Mr. Bailey, the member for Peace River.

The pomp and vanity features of the session had ended and the house got down to the drab realities of business, with an atmosphere of tense expectancy pervading the galleries. But there were no fireworks, such displays not being usual during the opening day's proceedings.

Eight bills were introduced and given first reading and these, covering as they do a wide range of legislation, give some idea of the ground to be covered during the session. These bridge was chairman and Rev. T. E. Armstrong, of Wainwright, secretary. A vote was taken regarding the ordination of women and though the vote was not unanimous, yet the majority favored their ordination.

It was decided to continue the camps at Camp Lake and, if possible, a camp for older people.

The official board of the local church met for supper with the members of Presbytery, the arrangements for which were in charge of Mrs. W. Collier and Mrs. C. G. Purvis.

A hearty welcome to the visitors was given by Mayor H. G. Thennell. Mr. Kearns, of Kinsella, and Mrs. Locke, of Irma, sang. Public addresses Tuesday evening were given by Dr. J. L. Nicol, of Saskatoon, and Dr. A. S. Tuttle, of Edmonton, which were both informing and inspiring and thoroughly enjoyed by a representative audience.

Frank Williams, of Kinsella, who has been a patient at the local hospital the past few days, has returned home.

Postmaster Corbett, of Kinsella, was a caller in town on Monday as cheerly as ever.

Viking Thundering Herd defeated Jarrow Wildcats 4-3 in a thrilling overtime period, Marvel Runyon being the outstanding star.

R. Ratke reports that there was a butterfly in his house over two weeks ago. This puts the Bruce butterflies in the shade. Maybe spring is just around the corner.

Among the delegates attending the school trustees' convention in Edmonton last week were Fred Barber, representing Iron Creek S. D., Dick Davis, of Bruce, and J. Carrington of Irma.

Those who attended the meeting in the town hall on Tuesday afternoon heard a very interesting and encouraging report of the recent wheat pool convention held in Calgary, given by the delegate from this district, Mr. Andrew Holmberg. A discussion of pool matters followed.

There was a flood of resolutions, the number filed by members of both sides of the house numbering almost thirty, which is an indication that the session will not be a brief one, although several of them are duplicated by others from opposing sides of the legislature.

Following the speeches supporting the reply to the speech from the throne, Friday afternoon, the house adjourned, W. R. Howson, Liberal party leader, adjourning the debate, which means that Mr. Howson will have to wait until the sitting commences Monday. This is a guarantee that the flood gates of oratory will be thrown wide open from then on, and that when the sitting commences Monday, there will be a lively debate.

The Liberal leader is preparing to throw wide open from then on, and that when the sitting commences Monday, there will be a lively debate. The Liberal leader is preparing to throw wide open from then on, and that when the sitting commences Monday, there will be a lively debate.

On the government side the ministers and the rank and file are well prepared to hold their own and defend their record of administration during the last five years, and it is safe to predict that no party in the opposition will have it all their own way in the debate.

LAKE THOMAS SOCIAL CREDIT STUDY GROUP

The Lake Thomas Social Credit study group held its second meeting on February 5th at Mr. Nordstrom's farm home. About fifty people were present and a very interesting evening was spent in discussion of Social Credit. Mr. Gottlieb gave a short outline of this study group's first meeting held at his place the previous week after which officers were elected.

Mr. Nordstrom, Thomas Sorenson and Bert Hansen were chosen as Leaders. Due to the increasing interest taken in the study group it was decided to hold future meetings in the North Hall every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The use of this hall has been given to the study group for expenses of heat and light. Mr. Gottlieb gave a short outline of Social Credit and its founder, Major Douglas, as well as the campaign in Alberta after which a lively discussion took place. Mr. Aberhart's radio talk at 9 o'clock formed part of the evening's program and was heard with interest and approval.

A nice lunch was served at the close of the meeting. Mr. Gottlieb and Mr. Nordstrom have done all the work in installing a radio in the hall.

On Tuesday evening of this week a meeting was held in the North Hall, when over 100 people gathered to continue discussion and study of Social Credit plans. The chairman, Mr. Gottlieb, opened the meeting by reading some extracts from Social Credit literature after which several in the audience asked questions and joined in a general discussion until 9:15, when Mr. Aberhart's talk from Calgary was received over the radio. Another lively session ensued until the ladies announced that lunch was ready, and believe it or not, everybody agreed on this one hundred percent and gave the ladies a hearty vote of thanks for their thoughtfulness.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, February 26th. Efforts are being made to bring competent social credit speakers to address meetings in the district.

Soup

The Bennett old age pension plan won't help the ladies much. Few of them will ever admit getting old enough to qualify.

Conductor: "I'll have to charge full fare for your little brother—he's wearing long pants."

Small boy: "Gosh, sis, you ride free."

Bill: "I fell downstairs with 'two pints of yee'."

Bob: "Did you spill any?"

Bill: "No, I kept my mouth closed."

She: "Do you know Sally Rand intimately?"

He: "Sure, I'm one of her fans."

Best the Camera Could Do

"And did Dr. Richardson take an X-ray of Mr. — wife's jaw?" asked a local citizen of another the other day.

"He tried to, but all he could get was a moving picture," was the friend's reply.

Something should be done about so many card parties in Viking. Last week one lady attended an afternoon party and an evening party was given Friday, and was again invited out Saturday afternoon. When she came home for supper Saturday night her husband handed her the dish of potatoes and she replied, "I pass."

Don't Like to Mention It

An editor in a small Missouri town is sending out the following to subscribers, says an exchange:

"There is a little matter that some of our subscribers have seemingly forgotten entirely. Some of them have made us promises, but have not kept them. To us it is a very important matter—it's necessary in our business. We are very modest and don't like to speak about such remissness."
